Guideline To Apply For: IRNN/ HRB Research Nurse/Midwife Support & Development Grant

Introduction: The Irish Research Nurses Network (IRNN)/ Health Research Board (HRB) Research Nurse/Midwife Support & Development Grant is to support the professional development of research nurse/midwife who are current members of the IRNN. The IRNN/HRB Research Nurse/Midwife Support & Development Grant has been established based on an application made by the IRNN to the HRB. This grant is open to current members of the IRNN only. The IRNN/HRB Research Nurse/Midwife Support & Development Grant supports research nurses/midwives to attend either conferences or courses (this can include workshops) that they have identified as been beneficial to their professional development and require support to attend.

By funding or subsidising the cost of attending either the conference or course, the grant allows research nurse/midwife to participate in network building and professional development opportunities, unique learning experiences and educational programmes, to the benefit of individual research nurse/midwife and the wider research nurse/midwife community. To maximise the impact of funding allocated, support should be requested where there is no funding available locally, or where only partial funding is available.

This grant call is open for the full duration of 2018 up to 2021. If you have any queries please contact hello@irnn.ie.

Application Process: Priority will be given to those who are members of the IRNN working groups or to IRNN members who have been accepted for oral or poster presentations at their selected conference.

Application forms for the grant are available at <https://irnn.ie/grants/irnn-hrb-research-nurse-midwife-support-development-grant-open/> and once completed should be returned to hello@irnn.ie
